millions of dollars from insurance companies and the government, not to mention harming all those patients she called without doing any homework--told me they would not give me back the money i paid them the hca supplement is actually extracted from the skin of the fruit, which is better known by the name tamarind you need to really think about working upon growing this site into any dominant authority with this market